A university is not only a space for intellectual pursuit but also a home where students learn to live with mutual respect, cooperation, and responsibility. In this regard, our hostels play a crucial role. They are not just places of residence but are vibrant learning environments where students build lasting friendships and grow into responsible members of society.

I want to assure all students and parents that the safety and security of our hostel residents remain the highest priority for Panjab University. We have taken comprehensive measures to ensure a safe, peaceful, and welcoming environment across all hostels. These include 24/7 security personnel, surveillance systems, regular inspections, and dedicated hostel staff who are trained to respond promptly to any concerns.

A strong support system is in place through wardens, grievance committees, and the Dean Student Welfare Office to address any issues that may arise during your stay.

To maintain a safe and healthy atmosphere for everyone, all residents are expected to follow the hostel rules and university guidelines. These rules are designed not as restrictions but as safeguards to protect the dignity, rights, and well-being of all members of the hostel community. I urge you to approach your time here with a spirit of cooperation, accountability, and care for others.

Message

Dear Students,

Welcome to the hostel, your new home away from home. As you embark on this significant chapter of your academic journey, it gives me great pleasure to extend my best wishes on behalf of the entire university community. Living in a hostel is not just about having a place to stay; it is about becoming part of a vibrant, diverse, and supportive community that fosters learning, personal growth, and lifelong friendships.

The hostel plays a vital role in shaping your university experience. It is a place where you will interact with students from various backgrounds, cultures, and regions, contributing to your holistic development. While you enjoy the freedom and opportunities that hostel life offers, it is equally important to recognize the responsibilities that come with it. The rules and guidelines set forth in this handbook are designed not to restrict you, but to ensure your safety, well-being, and comfort, as well as that of your fellow residents.

We expect all residents to uphold values of respect, cooperation, and inclusiveness. Every member of the hostel community has the right to feel safe, secure, and valued. Simple courtesies, like keeping noise levels down during study hours, taking care of hostel property, and maintaining cleanliness in common areas, go a long way in creating a pleasant living atmosphere.

In addition to following the rules, I encourage you to actively participate in hostel activities and initiatives. The hostel committees and student bodies often organize cultural, sports, and social events that provide a platform for you to express your talents and build camaraderie. I hope you will make the most of these opportunities.

Our team, including the wardens, hostel staff, and the office of the Dean Student Welfare, is here to support you. Should you face any challenges on personal, academic, or related to hostel matters, please do not hesitate to reach out. Your well-being is our priority, and we are committed to providing a supportive and nurturing environment.

Once again, welcome to your hostel and the university. I hope your stay will be enriching, memorable, and filled with success.

With best wishes,
